H.3084: An Act Promoting Community Prosperity by Further Reforming Criminal Offender Record Information (Rep. Liz Malia)

S.777/H.2359 Reduce the Criminalization of Poverty, Sen. Brownsberger/Rep Tyler

S.791/H.2308 Justice Reinvestment Act, Sen. Chang Diaz/Rep. Keefe

Major Highlights of these Bills

- Reduce 5 and 10 year waiting periods to seal records to 3 years for misdemeanors and 7 years for felony convictions to get people back to work.
- Change the present law which says that convictions for resisting arrest can NEVER be sealed.
- Permit a person with sealed CORI to say "I have no record" in applying for occupational licenses and housing after records are sealed—not just when applying for jobs under current law.
- Stop listing cases dismissed before arraignment, and certain juvenile cases on adult CORI reports given to employers and other requestors.

S.791/ H.2308 (The Justice Re-investment Act, and H.3084, An Act Promoting Community Prosperity by Further Reforming Criminal Offender Record Information) also would:

- Require the Probation Department to establish a system for easy correction of CORI database errors which are common.
- Require prisons and Houses of Correction to provide information about the Department of Revenue Child Support Enforcement's services upon admission to the facility to help people avoid the unfair accumulation of massive child support debt which can impede their successful re-entry.

S.791/ H.2308 (The Justice Re-investment Act) would also:

- End mandatory minimums for drug convictions.
- Provide for compassionate release from jail for medical conditions.
- Set up a trust for jobs and job training.

S.791/ H.2308 (The Justice Re-investment Act) and S.777/ H.2359 (An Act to Reduce Criminalization of Poverty) also would:

- Increase amount needed to trigger a felony in larceny cases from $250 to $1500 because present amount is 3rd lowest in the country. The low threshold makes felons of countless people for low level crimes.

S.777/ H.2359 (An Act to Reduce Criminalization of Poverty) also would:

- Get rid of post-release parole and post-release probation supervision fees.
- Change laws that impose fees that can NEVER to be waived.
- Create a uniform fee waiver standard so it is easier waive probation and court fees for low income people and help them avoid punishment for fees they are unable to pay.
- Increase "fine time" from $30 to $90 so people jailed for not paying court fees get to "work off" the fines faster and are released from incarceration sooner.
- Permit expungement of juvenile and adult criminal records, and shorten sealing period for juvenile records to 1 year.
- Set up a system with the FBI so that sealed records could be removed from FBI reports so that people can get jobs with federal agencies or places with high security clearances.

Support Worker Rights

When: Today! Monday June 5th at 10:30 AM

Where: on the steps at the State House

A whole section of our society have become even more vulnerable than they already are due to federal immigration and Islamophobia policies.

Today, we will gather in support of José and his family, other workers and community members and state with our presence, and with our action, that no one is alone. José was injured on the job and then turned in to ICE by his employer. Learn more about his story here: WBUR Story

This public rally is being organized to bring attention to the poor treatment of workers and the impact that federal immigration policy is having on local communities. No worker should be silenced or feel they are alone when treated this way.

Public Safety & Homeland Security hearing, Fri June 9 at 10:00 AM

Try to arrive no later than 9:00 AM.

There will also be a rally outside on the State House steps at 12 noon

Hearing Room A1 /A2 (enter State House through back entrance on Bowdoin St)

CLIMATE ACTION

Take Action on RGGI - A MA Power Forward Call to Action

Submitted by, Ben Hellerstein, State Director, Environment Massachusetts

RGGI ("Reggie"), the Regional Greenhouse Gas Initiative, is an agreement between Massachusetts and eight other northeastern states to reduce global warming pollution from power plants. Right now, Governor Baker and other officials have the opportunity to double the rate at which emissions decline under RGGI, which would bring major benefits to our health, our climate, and our economy.

Baker administration officials said last August that they support doubling the strength of the program, but so far they have failed to live up to their promise. A critical decision about RGGI is coming up in the next few weeks, and if we're going to strengthen the program, we need Governor Baker to be leading the charge, not sitting on the sidelines. Learn more about RGGI HERE

Here's how you can help urge the Baker administration to strengthen carbon limits under RGGI:

1. Call Department of Environmental Protection Commissioner Martin Suuberg: 617-292-5856
2. Speak with a staff member, or leave a message on the answering machine. Here's a sample message you can use:

Hi, my name is _____ and I live in _____ (town). I'm calling to urge Commissioner Suuberg ("soo-berg") and Governor Baker to follow through on their promise to strengthen the Regional Greenhouse Gas Initiative. By doubling the strength of RGGI ("reggie"), we can take big steps towards reducing global warming pollution and protecting public health. Please speak out in support of doubling the strength of RGGI!

3. Send me an email and let Ben know how your call went! Ben@environmentmassachusetts.org

END MASS INCARCERATION

FAMM Issues a New Report - Using Time to Reduce Crime, By Kevin Ring and Molly Gill

Today we released the findings of the first-ever independent survey of federal prisoners in a report, "Using Time to Reduce Crime: Federal Prisoner Survey Results Show Ways to Reduce Recidivism." Last summer, we sent a series of questionnaires to the more than 39,000 prisoners with whom we are in touch via email. More than 2,000 people responded to questions about the type and quality of educational and vocational training programs available in their facilities, as well as substance abuse and mental health treatment.

And unfortunately, our analysis of all the responses we received confirms what we've heard from prisoners over the years: Too many prisoners are not getting access to the programs that have been proven to reduce recidivism. President Trump's new budget proposal, which slashes the Bureau of Prisons' staff and corrections officers, will only make the problem worse.

Key findings from the REPORT include:

- Access to quality education is scarce.
- Most jobs afforded to inmates are "make work" jobs to service the prisons, such as cleaning bathrooms and living spaces or dining hall services.
- Not all inmates who need substance abuse or mental health services are getting help.
- Most prisoners are housed too far away from their families to maintain connections.

Good News! - Unanimous Vote by MA Senate to Increase Civil Legal Aid

Update by Laura Booth, Equal Justice Coalition Director

Last week the Senate unanimously adopted Senator Creem and Senator Brownsberger's amendment to increase funding for the Massachusetts Legal Assistance Corp.

Increase: $2 million, for a total appropriation of $20 million for FY18!

Next Steps: Conference Committee in June - Continued advocacy will be needed to protect the funding increase adopted by the House and the Senate. Action alerts will be sent out when it's time to make those calls!

Why this is Important: Lack of funding forces legal aid programs to turn away 57,000 eligible low-income people every year who face civil legal issues related to housing, family law, domestic violence, immigration, health care, public benefits, employment, education, and others that threaten their safety and stability. We continue our efforts because we believe that everyone deserves justice, regardless of income. Increased funding for civil legal aid will help more families, children, elders, veterans, domestic violence survivors, low-wage workers, people with disabilities, and students achieve equal access to justice.

Thank you again for asking your Senator to support civil legal aid, and thank you for all of the work that you do to serve vulnerable residents. We look forward to your continued support as the budget process moves to the Conference Committee.

Animal Rights

Animals used by most meat and egg corporations are abused in horrific ways. MA voters took a stand last fall by overwhelmingly passing a ballot measure that will simply require that pigs, calves and chickens be given enough space to stand up, turn around and extend their limbs. But now agribusiness interests are pushing a deceptive bill that would create a board stacked with industry insiders authorized to determine MA's farm animal welfare regulations. The goal is to confuse the public, and to undermine existing and future protections. Please call your state legislators and ask them to reject H.441. More info and a form to take action are at www.HumaneSociety.org/MAboard.

Reclaim Our Democracy

In June of 2016 the UUA adopted a new Congregational Study Action Issue The Corruption of Our Democracy, which is focused on the negative influence that huge amounts of money from corporations, billionaires, and special interest groups have on our national elections and on the effectiveness of congress.

The Denominational Affairs Committee at First Parish in Concord, Massachusetts formed a group to work on this issue called Reclaim Our Democracy and the group has created a website

ReclaimOurDemocracy.org that they hope others will use and make available to their groups.

The group's goal is to reclaim our democratic rights as citizens of the United States of America to have a government that truly represents and supports the needs and desires of all people, and their objectives are to

- Elect leaders that are not under the influence of moneyed interests who can truly represent the needs of the people.
- Repair our governmental systems: reform campaign financing, eliminate gerrymandering, enable and encourage citizens to vote.
- Pass a 28th Amendment to the Constitution which makes it clear that corporations do not have the same rights as people, that money is not the same as free speech and that improving the lives of "we, the people" is the purpose of our government.

For more information, or to join their mailing list, email Fred Van Deusen at fredvandeu@gmail.com or visit their website: <http://reclaimourdemocracy.org/>.

Boston's Future Buildings: How Do We Get to Net Zero? An Expert Panel Discussion

Sponsored by the Boston Clean Energy Coalition and the Jamaica Plain Forum

When: Thur June 15, 7:30 PM

Where: First Church in Jamaica Plain, 6 Eliot Street, Jamaica Plain

Speakers include:

- Matt O'Malley—Boston City Council Chair, Environment & Sustainability Committee (panel moderator)
- John Cleveland—Executive Director, Boston Green Ribbon Commission
- Henrietta Davis—former Mayor of Cambridge
- Joan Fitzgerald—Professor of Public Policy and Urban Affairs, Northeastern University
- Stephanie Horowitz—Managing Director, ZeroEnergy Design
- Cammy Peterson—Director of Clean Energy, Metropolitan Area Planning Council (MAPC)

The most effective work to create a clean energy future needs to happen in our cities and towns. We can be more nimble, targeted, and successful than the federal government and move our country forward by taking steps locally to transition from fossil fuels to renewable energy. Boston has a tremendous opportunity to show how our state and our nation can accelerate this transition by maximizing energy efficiency and local, renewable sources of energy. The initial Imagine Boston 2030 report describes a major construction boom but does not call for the state-of-the-art efficiency requirements essential to keeping this development from locking us into new fracked- gas infrastructure to power new buildings and decades of dependence on fossil fuels.

The Power of Now Level II Workshop: Growing from Allyship to Solidarity and Turning Privilege to Power

(You do not need to have attended Level I in order to participate in Level II)

When: Sat June 17, 9:00 AM - 1:30 PM(Registration and Breakfast 9 am)

Where: First Parish in Brookline, 382 Walnut Street, Brookline MA

(Brookline Hills T stop, and Number 60 bus to Cypress and Walnut streets. Street Parking available

Presenter: Karlene Griffiths Sekou TICKETS FLYER

The current political moment in the United States presents some not so new challenges in immanent ways. There are real opportunities for resistance, growth, cultivating authentic and connecting relationships, and building collective power within a strong mass social movement.

This Level II Workshop will:

- A. Use personal stories, film, case study, and/or role play to build and strengthen participant conversations on race, healing justice, active resistance, white supremacy.
- B. Discuss the Radical Black Freedom Struggle and BLM's role in it
- C. Offer a framework for choosing to be an ally, accomplice or freedom fighter. Discuss what we mean by privilege, appropriation, White supremacy, White backlash racism, discrimination, cultural bias, etc.
- D. Discuss what you need to build effective partnership with the BLM movement. How do you go from allyship to solidarity and move from privilege to power.

Workshop fees will support BLM Boston. For sliding scale fees contact the organizer at almasdossa@gmail.com
